More Spots Added for this Friday's FREE Science and Art Trip to Meow Wolf!

Take a trip with the STEM Collaborative to Santa Fe to experience interesting STEAM (STEM+Art) projects happening in New Mexico. We will start the day at the exhibition the Mouse In The Machine at the Thoma Foundation and then go to the immersive Meow Wolf exhibit to experience the ways in which art can blend with STEM. We will also be taking a tour of the makers space at Meow Wolf where students will get to see the tools which have made their exhibition possible.

This Friday, July 22, from 9:00 am to 6:00 pm!

Transportation will be provided.

Save your spot today at: <http://stemssummer.unm.edu/courselist/register/71>

Save the Date - UNIDOS Project Community Resource Fair

Join the UNIDOS Project for its Community Resource Fair this Saturday, July 23rd, from 9am - 1pm at the Uptown Transit Center (2121 Indiana St. NE).

The goal of the Community Resource Fair is to provide information regarding education, health and job/career opportunities to community members through a number of interactive and informational resource tables from educational institutions, local businesses, health providers, and other community organizations. The event is free and open to the entire community.

UNM HSC Office of Diversity Presents "Modern Day Miracles: The Curious Art of Neuro-Acupuncture"

On behalf of the UNM HSC Office for Diversity in partnership with the UNM Center for Life and the UNM College of Population Health, all UNM students, staff, and faculty are invited to attend "Modern Day Miracles: The Curious Art of Neuro-Acupuncture" with special guests Drs. Jason and Linda Hao.

Monday, July 25, 2016 from 2:00 PM - 3:15 PM at the Domenici Center Auditorium, UNM Health Science Center

Drs. Jason and Linda Hao have trained hundreds of acupuncture practitioners and treated thousands of patients with disorders of the central nervous system in the United States, Canada, Australia, Dubai, and Europe. They specialize in neuro-acupuncture for the treatment of stroke, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, Parkinson's disease, traumatic brain injury, spinal injury, post-traumatic stress disorder, complex regional pain, phantom pain, and ataxia.

UNM Students Invited to Participate in Colorblind Research Study

Cynthia Wenzl, a research coordinator at the Clinical and Translational Science Center, is recruiting for a visual research study seeking healthy volunteers who are colorblind. Participants will receive a non-invasive visual test.

The study visit takes up to three hours and participants will be compensated with a $30 gift card. Participants must be 18 and older not be allergic to tape, adhesives or dilating drops. They also must not have diabetes, any heart conditions, thyroid problems, or eye problems such as glaucoma, infections, trauma or injury.

If you are interested in learning more information about this study, or know someone who would be interested, please email Cynthia at cwenzl@salud.unm.edu.
