WhiteCoats4BlacksLives Forum Event on Dec 7th

In solidarity with the national demonstrations this year, students at the UNM Health Science Center will be hosting an open forum on December 7th from 12-1pm in the plaza between Fitz Hall and the Nursing and Pharmacy Building (rain/cold location Dominici West Lobby).

The goal is to create a space for students, faculty, staff, and patients to share personal experiences with and thoughts about discrimination in healthcare, police brutality, and the Black Lives Matter movement. The forum will be open mic.

Students can submit stories here.

Call for Student Climate Justice Abstracts

The Educate, Motivate and Innovate (EMI) Climate Justice Initiative is seeking abstracts on student projects that address resiliency, adaptation, and mitigation. Students should emphasize the relationships between climate change and the following: public health, cultural and traditional practices, economic development, and environmental justice communities. The EMI Committee will use these abstracts to select students to participate in the EMI Workshop at the National Environmental Justice Conference and Training Program.

UNM's IFCE Research Showcase a Success!

The richness of New Mexico is mirrored and many of its needs addressed through the diversity of UNM's College of Education research, and specifically the Individual, Family, and Community Education (IFCE) programs. The IFCE Showcase highlights research on critical health, well-being, and education issues of New Mexico and beyond.

This fall's IFCE Research Showcase 2016 was a great success with 39 posters presented and lots of visitors.

Undergraduate STEM Meetings, Scholarships, Grants, and Opportunities

- The American Society of Plant Biologists (ASPB) Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships (SURF) fund promising undergraduate students so they can conduct research in plant biology during the early part of their college careers.

Interested students can learn more here: <https://aspb-surf.secure-platform.com/a/>

- Judges are needed for the Corrales Elementary School Science Fair on Dec 6 from 8:30 - 11:30 AM. It's not a lot of time and you might be able to make a difference in a kid's view of how scientists think. Please let Carmen Brindeiro know at itsjustme@me.com if you are interested.

- Alion Science and Technology is hiring an intern and is especially interested in engineering student applicants. Any interested student can either go to the Alion career page (<http://www.alionscience.com/careers>) and apply to the technical intern position (job id 23310).

- The Pathways Program is hiring student trainees in their Bureau of Indian Affairs. Interested students can review postings here: <https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/455931300/>

- The InterTribal Timber Council is now accepting scholarship applications. Learn more about the various opportunities here: <http://www.itcnet.org/>
